Day 2

Classic tour of Edinburgh

Scotland's capital is bursting with character and charm. Edinburgh is a tale of two cities, the hilltop settlement with alleys, snickets, old churches and The Castle, and the NEW City, of 18th-century origin. Speculators constructed a new town on the back of new money and investment following the Union with England in 1707. There are the cashmere and kilts for sale, but our guide will help you authentically navigate Edinburgh.

Tour the official residence of Her Majesty The Queen, the Palace of Holyrood House. The Palace was once home to Mary, Queen of Scots and the setting for many dramatic episodes in her short life. Enjoy a walking tour up the famous Royal Mile with your guide – cobbled streets, tiny shops, mysteries and the stories of Scotland's significant figures of literature.

Tour Edinburgh Castle, dominating Edinburgh's skyline and giving stunning views across the city and countryside. Home to the Scottish Crown Jewels, the legendary Stone of Destiny and Mons Meg – a giant cannon. Tour the New Town and visit the Georgian house, built in the late 18th century and furnished as it would have been in 1796, presenting a fascinating insight into the past. Get-off-the-beaten path with your guide and see a side of Edinburgh not typically seen.

Overnight: Edinburgh.

Day 3

Stirling Castle, Loch Lomond and Inveraray castle

Our day begins with the military key to Scotland, Stirling Castle! The strategically located fortification is at the junction of the River Forth and Teith, perfect for launching attacks into the Highlands and surrounding settlements.

Stop for a photo stop of Stirling Castle or go inside. Perched high and proud on impressive cliffs, Stirling Castle has played a crucial role in Scottish history; namely the Battles of Stirling Bridge and Bannockburn took place within its shadow. The controversial Mary Queen of Scots lived here as a child. The Queen was the focus of a Roman Catholic succession to the English, and Scottish thrones, encouraged by the great Catholic powers of Europe Queen Mary plotted the assassination of Queen Elizabeth I, ultimately she lost her head.

Made up of mountains, forests, rivers and lochs, the Trossachs National Park is a miniature version of the Highlands with historical connections to rob Roy. The Corbetts mountains are between 2,500 and 3,000 feet, erratically break the horizon.

Inveraray Castle featured in an episode of Downton Abbey, which will interest Downton fans. Within the town is Inveraray Jail, a 19th-century prison with 3 foot thick walls. The jail holds 4345 former prisoner records, so there are many tales to be told by the costumed characters walking around the prison.

Overnight: Western Highlands.

Day 4

The Highlands, Glen Coe and Jacobite Express

When you visit the Highlands, this is the sort of dramatic and wild scenery on your wish list, and it doesn't disappoint. The waterfalls of Glen Nevis and the rugged views of Glen Coe are a must-see. Glen Coe featured in James Bond's Skyfall and also appeared in the opening credits of Outlander Season 1. From the road, you can see the legendary rocky ridge of the Devil's Staircase.

Railway Journey from Mallaig to Fort William on the Jacobite Express. The 84-mile journey is one of the greatest railway journeys in the world! A vintage railway route that boasts views of the mighty Ben Nevis, the King of Britain's mountains. For the Harry Potter fan and muggles among us, crossing 21-arched Glenfinnan viaduct is simply the closest you can get to travelling on the Hogwarts Express back to school.

Overnight: Pitlochry.

Day 5

Dunkeld, Kingdom of Fife and St Andrews

Dunkeld sits by the River Tay; this ancient and charming village was all but destroyed in the Battle of Dunkeld, a Jacobite defeat, in 1689. It was while on holiday in the Dunkeld countryside that Beatrix Potter found the locations for her Peter Rabbit stories.

There are ten authentic links courses in and around St Andrew's, including the world-famous Old Course. St Andrews, the home of golf and real-life royal love stories! The sport invented here, and the Scots have been playing it here since around the 12th-century! It was particularly popular with Mary, Queen of Scots, who was chastised in 1568 when she chose to 'tee-off' straight after her husband, murder! These stories and more are shared and displayed at the British Golf Museum, which documents the game from the middle ages to the modern-day.

The seaside and university town is the place where Kate Middleton stole Prince William's heart, now the Duchess of Cambridge! The university is the oldest in Scotland with over six centuries of teaching, and the surrounding milieu includes medieval cobbled streets, a 13th-century castle, and the haunting gothic ruin of St Andrews Cathedral.

Overnight: Edinburgh.
